

OIL, POWER AND EMPIRE: IRAQ AND THE U.S. GLOBAL AGENDA

a new book by Larry Everest

Why did the U.S. invade Iraq, why is it vowing to stay, and why has its occupation generated such opposition? In this riveting and meticulously documented history of U.S. intervention in Iraq, Larry Everest demolishes official pretexts of weapons of mass destruction, ties to Al Qaeda, and “liberating” Iraqis to expose the real agenda at work:

- How the Bush administration seized on September 11 to consolidate a new global strategy of unbounded war for greater empire
- Why conquering Iraq is central to U.S. imperial objectives
- How the 2003 Iraq War grew out of over 80 years of foreign domination of the Middle East, yet also marks a radical leap in U.S. efforts to control the region
- Why oil is a major war objective, not to fuel SUV’s or reward favored corporations, but to secure a powerful weapon of empire
- How the U.S. is attempting to create an Iraqi client state, and why its occupation is spawning popular resistance
- How the Bush war juggernaut could be derailed

ISBN: 1-56751-246-1 paper $19.95
390 pages, appendix, chronology, index
Common Courage Press 2004

The most thorough and reliable critique of U.S. policy toward Iraq available. Eminently reasonable and coherently argued. Those who have been subjected to the heavy bombardment of U.S. propaganda should read this book--now.

-As'ad AbuKhalil, author Bin Laden, Islam, and America's New "War on Terrorism"

This remarkable account of US and UK policy toward Iraq--from its founding as a British colony after World War I to the immediate present--is brilliantly illuminating in an almost literal sense. It's as if the author had suddenly turned the lights on in the dark cellar of American foreign policy in the Middle East... I can't recommend it too highly for the many struggling to fathom how America came to the present calamitous role of occupying Iraq against local resistance.

- Daniel Ellsberg, author Secrets: A Memoir of Vietnam and the Pentagon Papers

Available at bookstores or from Common Courage Press: 800.497.3207

To purchase online or contact Larry Everest: www.larryeverest.com

